'round town

with Betty Allen...

When the County Planning Commission denied the rezoning of property along the railroad tracks at Hamilton Ave. for an industrial site to be occupied by a dehydrator there was a great deal of unfavorable comment. In talking to a number of people about the matter, I did not find one person who did not think that industry is necessary in Campbell if the town is going to thrive and survive any future economic depressions.

The increasingly enormous number of houses being constructed in the district is a warning that we cannot exist withoue a means of livelihood. Los Gatos, situated as it is, with all available space adjacent to the railroad already in use, is cramped for room to expand industrially; and Saratoga, made up for the most part of retired and well-to-do people, is not geared for industry—but Campbell has the room and most of its citizens see the necessity for additional opportunities for work.

Those residents who objected to the building of the dehydrator had, as one of their chief reasons, the presence of objectionable odors. The proposed manager of the plant has since declared that no onions or garlic will be dehydrated there and has guaranted that there will be no odors which are not already customary in the present dehydrator—which no one has objected to.

The matter has been appealed to the County Board of Supervisors and will be heard on Monday, June 17, at 11 a. m. Here is the opportunity for those who believe that Campbell needs industry and who feel that, for the good of the community, the property along the railroad tracks is best suited to industrial uses. A large representation from Campbell in favor of the industrial zoning would have the chance to express themselves to the Board.

This does not mean that you can leave it up to your neighbor to go—you have to go yourself. A group of citizens, eager for a good representation at the hearing, are arranging transportation and a telephone call to The Press office Monday morning will insure you a ride to the hearing.

Herbert Shadle, Campbell member of the County Planning Commission, has declared himself in favor of the industrial re-zoning and has written a letter to the County Board of Supervisors stating his views.

This dehydrator will mean the employment of a hundred men at least and no one can foretell the future development of the concern. If you are a merchant or engaged in business here this has a personal meaning to you. If you are a teacher, you are interested increased assessed valuation for the district so that better schools may develop and each additional industry increases the assessed valuation. If you work elsewhere, but make your home here, you will be interested in securing opportunities which will result in the improvement and desirability of your community.

Since we are not incorporated, ehe only way that our development can be made is through the county boards and this can only be done if we make ourselves heard. These men are public servants, elected by us, but they cannot carry out our wishes if we do not express them.

Take an hour off, Monday, no matter how busy you are, to insure the future development of Campbell by appearing at the hearing.

Every week a name will be drawn from our list of new subscribers and printed in the classified ad column. The person whose name appears there may receive two free passes to the Campbell Theater by calling at the Press Office. Look and see if your name is there!

Lost Woman Found Here

The object of a State-wide search, Mrs. Mary Demechelli, 77, who had been reported missing on Sunday afternoon, was found late Monday afternoon by Miss Marion Peake, who, with her mother, Mrs. Florine Peake, operates the antique store, The Tiny Shop on the Santa Clara-Los Gatos Highway.

In a dazed condition, the elderly woman had collapsed in the driveway of the Peake home. Unable to tell Miss Peake her name or address, she was brought to Campbell by her discoverer who came to The Press office for advice. Members of The Press staff called Ethan Lanphear, constable, who was able to elicit from the woman the fact that she lived in San Jose.

Lanphear, assisted by Paul Becker, took the aged woman to San Jose and turned her over to the sheriff's office there where it turned out she was the object of their search. The preceding day Mrs. Demechelli, who lives at 59 Locust St., vanished from a church picnic at the Aiassa ranch on King Road carrying her table utensils.

When found, she was carrying a sack of cherries, and despite the fact that she had fallen several times, was still wearing her hat. Her recollections of the previous night were vague and disconnected.

Mrs. Demechelli's son, George Demechelli, who operates the Santa Clara monument works, reported that his mother seemed to have suffered no injuries and seemed physically alright after her night of exposure. He attributed her loss of memory to old age.

Rev. Carlson Speaks at Baccalaureate

The Rev. Robert L. Carlson, minister of the Campbell Congregational church, was the principal speaker at the baccalaureate service for the graduating class of the Campbell Union High school held last Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock in the high school auditorium. He chose as his subject: "Responsobility: Its Significance for Us."

Leading the Call to Worship and the responsive litany as well as giving the invocation, was the Rev. Lawrence J. Osborne, minister of the Campbell Methodist church.

Also included in the program were anthems by the a capella choir under the direction of Frank Triena, and music by the high school orchestra.

Shooting Here Nets Jail Sentence

Austin Yeager, 36, who was convicsted of shooting his father-in-law, Stephen McClendon, in the leg during a family argument Sunday, April 28, at their Smith Ave. home, was sentenced to six months in jail. Superior Judge William F. James committed the man after probation was denied because a firearm was involved.

The shooting climaxed a family querrel during which McClendon ordered Yeager and his family out of his tent residence which they were then occupying. Yeager who later drove to Sheriff Walter Gaspars office and surrendered declared that he fired the shot from his .22 caliber rifle "to scare" his father-in-law.

Plans Under Way For Incorporation Discussion

Interest is increasing in the Campbell Taxpayers' Association meeting set for Monday, June 24, which will feature a discussion of incorporation. The group has already drawn up tentative boundary lines for the proposed incorporated area in order that the subject may be considered in a definite manner.

Ruth Blake, Los Gatos city clerk and assessor, has consented to speak at the meeting and discuss all aspects of incorporation with particular emphasis upon the sources of revenue and the probable expenses. Miss Blake is considered an authority on the subject and it is expected that she will be able to answer any questions which interested members of the audience may ask.

The association is proceeding with its other objectives and George Arlidge, secretary, reports that he already has 200 signatures on the petition being circulated by the group requesting the rezoning of property along the railroad tract which might be then used for industrial sites.

All Campbell residents who are interested in the matter of incorporation are urged by the association to attend the meeting and air their views. It will begin at 8 o'clock in the evening in Library Hall.

Oeser Hen Lays Mammoth Egg

Everyone around the Winchester Hatchery is all agog over a mammoth egg laid last Friday on the breeding farm. Paul Oeser, owner, has seen some unusual phenomena in his wide experience with chickens but this is really in a class by itself.

H. R. Davis, worker on the farm, brought the giant egg in to The Press office and actual measurements were made. It's 7 3/16 inches around and 9 3/8 inches endways. Fried or scrambled it would make a hearty meal for it weighs 6 ounces.

Davis is disappointed that he is unable to tell which hen is responsible for the seventh wonder of the hen world. All he knows is that it was a New Hampshire Red, for it was found in the pen where the New Hampshires are kept.

Mrs. Hanger Home

Mrs. Rose E. Hanger has returned to her home on San Jose-Los Gatos Road, after a few weeks in the O'Connor Hospital.

Blue Jay Has New Owners

Coming as a surprise to many people, is the news that Jack Faulkner has sold his Blue Jay restaurant and drive-in located on Winchester Road just south of Campbell Ave. The new owner is Link Howatt who comes from Yakima, Washington.

An experienced restaurant operator, Howatt has already taken over and is now opening at 10 in the morning instead of 6 p. m. as was done in the past. He will remain open until 1 a. m. as Faulkner did.

Howatt's family, consisting of his wife and two daughters, have joined him here. Jean, the younger daughter, will enroll in the eighth grade at the Campbell Elementary school next September. Her older sister, Joyce, plans on helping her parents with the new business.

The entire family is enthusiastic over the Santa Clara Valley and Campbell in particular.

Raymond Holt At Geiger Field

Pvt. Raymond W. Holt, 16 Dillon St., has begun training as an aviation engineer of the Army Air Forces at Geiger Field, Spokane, Washington, according to word received recently from Colonel Eric Dougan, commanding officer.

The many skilled subjects taught at the AAF Aviation Engineer School, such as repair and operations of automotive equipment, tractors and graders used in airport and highway construction, should prove of inestimable value as a future civilian occupation. Drafting, surveying and carpentry are some of the other subjects taught at the Engineer Training school.

Upon completion of his training, the new aviation engineer soldier will probably be assigned to an aviation engineer unit. These units are an integral part of the Army Air Forces and have as their mission the performance of all engineer work needed by the Air Forces in all theaters of operations.

Kindergarten Children Hold "Graduation" Exercises

The morning and afternoon kindergartens at the Campbell Elementary school held a combined "kindergarten graduation" program at the school this morning with parents and friends as guests. Under the direction of Miss E. Borzone, teacher, the students presented songs, dances and specialty numbers. Their "class song" has the theme "Graduation and Vacation—First Grade Then!"

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

It has been proved many times in the past that Campbell gets excellent results in community cooperation in any worthwhile project when the noed presents itself. We believe a need for this kind of effort is now present in the coming hearing before the Board of Supervisors in regard to industrial zoning for this community.

So far, the need for this zoning has not been clearly recognized either by the Board of Supervisors or by the residents of Campbell, as the Board has repeatedly refused the proposal. The advantages of added industries to our community in the added inducement they would offer to attract a bank so unquestionably needed here, and the increased assessed valuation more industries would add for our school bonds and other tax needs, should be of keen interest to all property owners and business people here. The Board of Supervisors cannot know the true need or the real will of the residents of Campbell unless they are present in sufficient numbers to make their wants unmistakably known.

The Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce believes that the proposed area by the railroad tracks on Hamilton Avenue is ideal for industrial zoning and that it is vital to the continued growth of the community to secure it without further delay. We respectfully urge the residents of Campbell to make a special effort to attend this hearing at 11 o'clock Monday morning, June 17.

Mr. Walter Silberbauer,
President,

Mr. James Dent,
Mr. Ira Grim,
Mr. Lowell Benson,
Mr. Byron Botts,
Miss Rachel Spradling,

"A Fair Exchange" To Be Repeated Saturday Night

Saturday morning, following a most successful performance of the hilarious comedy, "A Fair Exchange" by the Footlighters, calls began coming in for a "repeat". The cast has consented, and, sponsored by the Campbell American Legion Auxiliary, it will be repeated Saturday evening, June 15, at 8:15, in the Campbell High school.

Each member of the cast was outstanding in his or her own part, and those who have attended former performances of this talented group, state that it is one of the most successful ones ever given.

Particularly outstanding in the performance is Budd Levenburg, who skillfully carries a heavy part and keeps his audience convulsed with laughter.

Proceeds of both performances go to the building fund of the Campbell Post American Legion.

Campbell Man Serves With New Constabulary

Cpl. Richard C. Stephens of Campbell, is now serving with the U. S. Constabulary, the new, all mobile, security striking force which will soon be policing the entire American zones in Germany and Austria. Cpl. Stephens, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Stephens, reside on the Santa Clara-Los Gatos Road, now wears the distinctive uniform of the constabulary which is an integral part of the Third Army, the only remaining major field command in Europe. His new dress consists of smooth-surfaced combat boots; an olive drab, long blouse with matching trousers; a golden scarf, and a hemet liner bearing insignia and alternating bands of blue and gold. Off duty Cpl. Stephens replaces his helmet liner with a sharp service cap with visor and removes his shoulder strap and pistol which every man, except medics and bandsmen, carry in the constabulary. Cpl. Stephens is one of 38,000 officers and men, all volunteers or carefully screened reenforcements, who will carry out the constabulary's many security missions with light tanks, armored cars and jeeps, motorcycles, horses and liaison-type aircraft.

As a member of this rapidly forming crack corps, led by Major General Ernest N. Harmon, veterans combat commander, Cpl. Stephens meets high standards of physique and ability and receives specialized training for his dual duty of soldier and special policeman.

The Campbell man who graduated from high school here two years ago and has been in the service since then, arrived overseas a year ago and was privileged to march in the Victory parade in Worms, Germany, which celebrated the capitulation of the Germans. He was then a member of the Armed Field Artillery.

Hunt Foods Inc., formerly Drew Canning Co., are now registering workers for the apricot season in the personnel office in the basement.

FATHERS' DAY

Nationally, Fathers' Day is a comparative newcomer to the annual list of special events. It was first observed on a nationwide scale in 1934.

But Fathers' Day actually began back in 1910 and each year was adopted by more and more communities. By 1924 it was widely celebrated but officially it had not attained national status.

In that year President Coolidge said, "The widespread observance of this occasion is calculated to establish more intimate relations between fathers and children, and also to impress upon fathers the full measure of their obligations."

The average father, we imagine, thinks of this day as little more than an excuse for the family to buy him presents (with his money). But this year, with a serious wave of juvenile delinquency sweeping the Nation—the U. S. Department of Justice fears it will get worse—every father should pause on his "day"—Sunday, June 16—to realize more clearly what his obligations are to his children and how he can best fulfill them.

If each dad will strive to establish a closer comradeship between himself and his youngsters, especially those of 'teen age, and will seek a better understanding of their views and problems, he will be doing his part in preventing delinquency and building a better citizenry.

In so doing, the dads of America will give Fathers' Day a deeper, more constructive meaning which will rebound to the benefit of all.

Letters to the Editor

Campbell Improvements

Dear Editor:

There is a wave of prosperity sweeping over the whole West coast, and eastern manufacturers have for some time realized the potentialities of this area. They have been moving their plants or building new ones all around us. San Jose and Santa Clara have greatly benefited, and will benefit to a much greater extent as time advances. They have taken advantage of the opportunities presented to them. Campbell has also been offered these opportunities for advancement, but until recently no hand has been stretched out to grasp them. New industries mean more employment for our fast growing population, and this necessarily means increased sales for our merchants if they will wake up to the necessity of encouraging development. Unfortunately, we have very few progressive merchants. One has only to walk down our main business thoroughfare to find actual proof of this statement. With a few exceptions the stores are far from attractive in appearance, and some are an actual disgrace to a city of the size of Campbell. With a little more personal supervision this could easily be remedied, and would bring results to more than compensate for the trouble.

Our streets are abominably illuminated, and no effort has been made by the tradesmen to remedy the defect.

Congested traffic in the center of the shoppnig district prevents shoppers getting near the stores. Often double parking by trucks on both sides of the road stops traffic entirely. This should not be allowed, and could be prevented or in some way remedied.

A much neede d new bank, a new theater, and new stores can be secured for Campbell if the public wakes up to the fact that it is useless leaving these matters in the hands of the tradesmen.

There is only one organization in Campbell fully alive to the necessity of taking immediate steps, or, as an alternative, seeing the city left in the same stagnated condition which has characterized it for so many years. This organization is The Campbell Taxpayers' Association, governed entirely by the people for the benefit of the people, and not working in the interests of any one individual or group. They are strenuously working to improve the street lighting, and also to obtain additional lights for new districts (where necessary).

They are also working to secure the zoning of an area for light industries, and have already been advised of several mannfacturers who will build plants as soon as land is available.

They have been taking steps towards securing a much needed bank for Campbell, and negotiations are continuing.

The Campbell Taxpayers' Association has been studying the question of incorporation. This important matter will be discussed in open forum at a special meeting to be held at Country Woman's hall on June 24. You are cordially invited to attend and join in the discussion. Learn the true facts how incorporation will benefit Campbell, and make the city one to be proud of.

Every resident of Campbell is requested to join the association, and so assist in the good work now being done for the benefit of the people.

GEORGE ARLIDGE.

Dear Editor:

Some time ago I suggested in a letter to The Press that we have a county contest to see what precincts and what townships polled the largest percentage of their registered voters. Here I should like to report on our own township.

Our township as a whole, it appears, voted about 57 per cent. It had been estimated as high as 60 per cent.

Hamilton precincts Nos. 1, 2 and 3, all in the country, voted respectively (in fractions carried to two places only) 43, 40 and 44 per cent. Campbell precincts Nos. 1, 3 and 4 voted remarkably close together, clustered around 53 per cent. For Campbell precincts Nos. 5, 6 and 7, the figures are 61, 63 and 60.

Dramatically tops was Campbell No. 2, voting a strong 70 per cent. Its election board, at IOOF Hall, had to work virtually all night.

None of the basic figures used in the foregoing computation were official, and none of the percentages are more accurate than the fraction carried to the nearest two places. But I believe that the figures are close enough for news value, and that the official count will not produce much relative change.

Incidentally, all the percentages added and divided by their number, which is ten, seem to make an average of 54. But the upward pull of the higher percentages earns us a higher figure, or the 57. It remains to see figures from our county's other nine townships. Perhaps by claiming the county championship we can smoke some of the other townships out.

JOHN D. BLAINE.

TRUMAN AND WHITNEY

WASHINGTON — Those who have sat in the hectic closed-door conferences over the railroad strike report that it is hard to say who has been sorest at the prima donna tactics of "Brother" A. F. Whitney, head of the train men—government officials or the other brotherhood leaders who are not striking but were thrown out of work by the trainmen and the locomotive engineers.

At one time probably the President of the United States was the most irked at the grandstanding Mr. Whitney. Truman even had difficulty getting Whitney to stay in Washingthon. He was constantly threatening to stage an opera exit to Cleveland without even bothering to advise the White House.

This brought a sharp tongue-lashing from the President during one of their meetings.

"What do you mean to do—walk out on the President of the United States?" Truman roughly inquired of "Brother" Whitney.

"No, sir," responded Whitney—and his voice lacked its usual brusqueness.

"Well, then you had better stay here until we get this thing settled and try to show a little more co-operation," snapped Truman.

GOVERNMENT LETTERS

The civil service commission has just issued a fancy pamphlet telling government employees how to write letters.

A section devoted to "What's Wrong With Government Writing?" reads in part: "Are you one of the people who think all government writing must be impersonal and legalistic? . . . What does it profit a man if he writes the long way around—and loses his reader? Why use horse-and-buggy writing in an airplane age?

"Let's cut long sentences into bites we can swallow," the civil service rhetorician urges government writers. "Shorten your sentences to an average of 17 words."

But here is the payoff: The first sentence of a foreword in the booklet contains 27 words; the second, 18 words; the third, 20 words; the fourth, 22 words, and the fifth, 18 words.

$1-A-YEAR McGRADY

Jovial Ed McGrady, vice-president of the Radio Corporation of America and ex-assistane secretary of labor, was asked by a newsman if it were true Labor Secretary L. B. Schwellenbach is "raising his salary" because of his diligent efforts to bring John L. Lewis and the operators together.

McGrady got a chuckle out of the question, for he is being paid nothing for his herculean work in trying to settle the dispute.

The fact is that few men have donated more time to their government than McGrady.

Landlords Reminded Of OPA Rent Rules

Attention of landlords and tenants in the Northern California District was called today by OPA to an amendment to rent regulations, effective May 27, which requires statement of facts in notices of eviction.

Henry A. Cross, district rent executive, announced approximately ninety per cent of the landlords are failing to comply with the amendment, thus delaying completion of the proceedings and making it necessary to serve an additional eviction notice.

Previously the landlords were required only to specify the ground under the regulations without specifying the details constituting the grounds on which the eviction is sought.

Specifically, the amendment provides that notices of eviction served on tenants, and filed with the OPA, shall include statements of the ground under existing regulations relied upon for eviction, and of facts necessary to establish the existence of such ground.

Enthusiastic Guests Visit Here

Mrs. A. H. Rogers of Oak Ridge, Tennessee, and Mrs. E. B. Hertzler of Philadelphia, Pa., who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Seekins of North Winchester Road, left Tuesday for San Francisco, Lake Tahoe, Long Barn and Yosemite Park en route to their homes in the East. They will also visit Salt Lake City, the Colorado Rockies and Ozark Mountains of Missouri and Arkansas. They report a wonderful drive out, taking 12 days from Oak Ridge to Los Angeles. They spent a day at Grand Canyon, one at Painted Desert and Petrified Forest and nearly a day at Albuquerque, New Mexico. They took plenty of time to enjoy the scenery which is so varied over the State. After spending several days in Los Angeles and Long Beach, they were more than enthusiastic about the trip up the coast on Route 1. They are ardent admirers of California and especially the Santa Clara Valley, and hope to return for a repeat visit in a year or two.

Pundita Circle Meets For Last Time This Season

Pundita Circle met May 22 with Mrs. L. Carboni. Mrs. D. K. Robison and Mrs. D. H. Cramer were co-hostesses.

Mrs. G. A. Rucker read the "Meditation" and led the salute to the flag.

The president, Mrs. Stanley Smith, presided over a short business meeting. Mrs. Vivian Fore of Glendale was guest for the afternoon.

Two members were reported hospitalized: Mrs. R. E. Hanger and Mrs. M. Purmort.

Mrs. Robison read a lengthy paper on "What's New in Medicine", and Mrs. Cramer spoke on treatments, old and new.

The meeting was adjourned to meet June 5 with Mrs. J. J. Pardee for a picnic in her beautiful garden where the members enjoyed a bountiful lunch under the arbor, and entertained a number of guests who have recently moved into the community.

After a short business meeting the club adjourned to meet the last Wednesday in September.

The most appealing shorts yet, appeared at Rachel's this week. They are made of butcher's linen and they are distinctively smart. The placket is in the front and artfully scalloped. In the same fabric and cut with the same skill are pedal pushers boasting huge pockets. Part of the charm of these summer sport togs is their heavenly colors—they come in black (very, very smart), white, grey (try them with a yellow blouse), sky blue, orange, lime yellow and strawberry pink. They are sure to give you an idea for a clever color combination, and will be the favorite of your summer wardrobe. And the payoff? They're washable.

Finding the graduate's gift takes a lot of careful thought for it has to be something which can be cherished for many years. At the Campbell Pharmacy, there's the perfect solution to the problem—a lucite toilet set. They have two styles—one very plain and one very ornate. The plain set includes a mirror on the back of the brush which seems practical as well as a little out of the ordinary. They are lovely to look at, as modern as this year's graduate, and will fit into any color scheme.

Exciting news for camera fans and fiends in the vicinity is the coming installation at the House of Riches of a complete film setup. They plan on selling films and all the necessary apparatuses so dear to the heart of the inveterate picture taker. They will also take care of your developing. Like everything else these days, they can't set a definite day for the arrival of their stock, but hope it will be soon.

The Campbell Hardware Company has good news for every householder—75 watt bulbs are on the way back. They have been missing for most of the war years and they've been really missed, too. Joseph Agostinho says they are due in stock any day now so it won't be long.

Mothers who feel their small sons, and sometimes daughters, need suits of armor to play in will welcome the new overalls just arrived at The Dresser Drawer. They are made of heavy, and I do mean heavy, corduroy, and the best part is that they come in gay but soil proof plaids which can't show the dirt. They'll stand up under the roughest kind of treatment and any number of tubbings. There's blue and red, whichever suits your wild indian best.

* * * *

A really lush present for Father's Day would be the de luxe leather traveling case at Clark's Drugs. Besides it's smart appearance it's complete from soup to nuts. There's a mirror, comb, nail file, hair brush, and plastic containers for soap, toothbrush and what have you. It's just right for that weekend or that long business trip East.

* * * *

It's hard to choose at The What Not from all of their lovely gift ideas, but if Father is a Mason he'd love the sturdy bronze bookends which bear the Masonic emblem. And, by the way, there are matching ones for Mother with the Eastern Star emblem. It's an idea you might kep in mind. Also for Father is a unique ceramic "razorbank" which solves in a painless and attractive way the problem of old razor blades. An unusually dainty and feminine present for your favorite June graduate are the lovely hand-painted lotion jars and, to accompany them, a dear little heart-shaped jewelry box.

* * * *

If Father "has everything" he can always use another tie and you can find a wonderful selection at Benson's. There are some nice California fabric ones, gay ones, somber ones, conservative ones and "playboy" ones. You'll be sure to find one to suit Father's type and one that will please.

MR. AND MRS. PETE SPRAGIA, Proprietors

The Farmer's Corner

By RALPH H. TAYLOR

(Executive Secretary, Agricultural Council of California)

Editor's Note: Recently Life Magazine excoriated America's 6,000,000 farmers in a full-page editorial titled "Greed on the Farm". This is the first of two columns of discussion of Life's statement. The second column appears next week.

* * * *

In the most severe indictment of the American farmer, as a human being, that has ever come to the attention of this columnist, Life Magazine accuses the agricultural population of this Nation of placing dollars above human misery in relation to the famine relief program.

The editorial, "Greed on the Farm", is forcefully written, is based in a measure on selected facts—but is slanted unfairly. It is in rebuttal to this unfair slanting that today's column, and next week's, are presented.

Life credits the U. S. farmer with meeting, despite the labor shortage and other handicaps, the enormous task of providing food for victory through the war—"working like a horse from dawn to dark," lucky only in fortunate weather. In doing so, Life adds in sharply disapproving tone, farmers generally made a lot of money. As a class, Life says, farmers earned more profit during the war period than any other major group of producers and workers.

If that is true, it is simple justice to point out that it was about time the agricultural industry of this country gained a favored position, for a time, in the cash-incoming rating! For the rest of America, the year 1940 marked the end of a depression that first pinched seriously around 1932. For the farmers of America, it marked the first real relief from depression in nearly a score of years—in nearly a generation. The fabulous middle and late 1920's, when urban America was in a roaring boom, already were years of depression on millions of farms.

It may be categorically stated that if the income of all economic and industrial groups in America were averaged over the last 25 years—war-time and peace-time, good times and bad—the farmers' rating would be low. In earning their windfall war profits, they were in position akin to that of a poker player who has an abnormally long run of bad luck, then rakes in a big "pot"—but still isn't ahead of the game.

In common with other war-time producers, the farmer turned over much of the cream to the income tax collector. Most of the rest of it, in millions of cases, went to making up losses and debts of the depression. Even Life notes that U. S. farmers have reduced mortgage indebtedness by nearly two billion dollars since the war began. To many of them, high war earnings were a welcome means of pulling even in the world—not an unneeded surplus for enrichment.

With those facts in the record, we come to Life's bitterest accusation: That farmers, despite appeals and price inducements from the Government, have withheld millions of bushels of grain from export for the purpose of getting higher prices later on. At this point in the editorial, Life began to wabble. The writer of the editorial realized, apparently suddenly, that he was discrediting farmers a lone for a defect—selfishness—that is, alas, in the bloodstream of the human race as a whole.

"So what?" Life's editorialist exclaims dismally. "Let him who is without greed cast the first rock at the farmer. Is hoarding grain any worse than hoarding shirts and clothing? . . . Look at the labor unions: When LaGuardia asked the striking miners to dig emergency coal for UNRRA they brushed him off. . . . Farmers are not the only selfish people in this selfish world and year."

Indeed they are not! The farmer himself is vastly more sinned against than sinning, in this regard, as we shall attempt to show in next week's column. It is obviously unfair, in criticizing farmers for selfishness in the matter of famine food sales, to include them all. The same issue of Life tells of a farmer who sought to give 1000 bushels of corn to the relief program, was turned down by the Government, and sold the corn and gave the proceeds to relief. He's a "rare" farmer, comments Life. If so, that is because pure altruism, unfortunately, is rare in this world.

It might be pointed out (since

"Voice of the Turtle" Monday Evening

"The Voice of the Turtle," John van Druten's famous three-character comedy, "the most delightful comedy of the season," according to the New York Times, has one performance in San Jose on next Monday evening, June 17, with the curtain at eight-thirty. San Jose and community are more than fortunate to have a date which gives them the new New York cast, engaged to play the 1946-47 season, with a month in St. Louis, Cincinnati, Detroit, Washington, D. C., and back to San Francisco and Los Angeles for return engagements the first of the year.

Phyllis Ryder, Boyd Crawford and Marcia Walter are the three brilliant talents whom Alfred de Liagre has chosen out of hundreds of aspirants, and who come to the coast with him next week. Mr. de Liagre, producer, director, himself will be in the San Jose audience.

Boyd Crawford was juvenile lead in the Broadway production of "Yes, My Darling Daughter", also a De Liagre production, has been starred in films, was with Helen Hayes in "Victoria Regina", and just discharged from the Navy, was immediately engaged for one of the "Turtle" companies. Phyllis Ryder, lovely ingenue lead in Tennessee Williams' Broadway play, "You Touched Me", was a licensed pilot with the WASPS during the war.

Costumes, with five complete changes for Miss Ryder, are by Elizabeth Arden. The famous three-room set is by Stewart Chaney.

Thanks Voters

Tom Kilmartin, present chief deputy coroner and coroner elect, last night asked the Campbell Press to express his sincere personal thanks to the people of Santa Clara County.

"It is with deep gratitude and appreciation that I thank those of you who elected me as your Coroner and Public Administrator. I shall do everything within my power to successfully carry out the functions of the office and to uphold the faith you have shown in me," read Kilmartin's message.

"My campaign would have been unsuccessful without the help and cooperation of all of you, many of whom gave your time and work in my behalf," concluded Kilmartin.

Canada exports more wood pulp than all the rest of the world combined.

Engaged In PTA Work

Two Campbell women who are taking an increasingly active part in PTA work are Mrs. Clara Fagalde and Mrs. J. W. Knowles. Last week Mrs. Fagalde was installed as fifth vice-president of the Sixth District PTA and is serving in the education department as school education chairman. Mrs. Knowles, also serving in the education department, is music chairman.

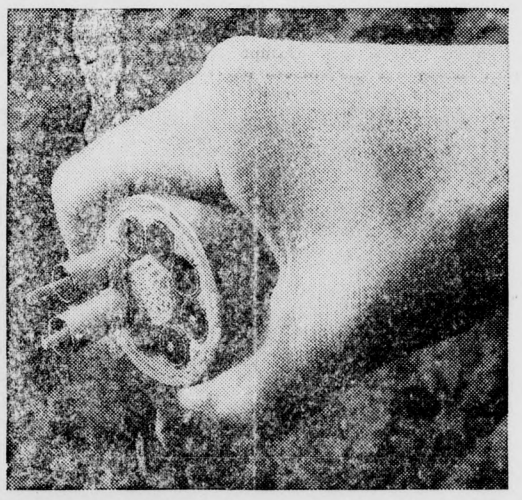
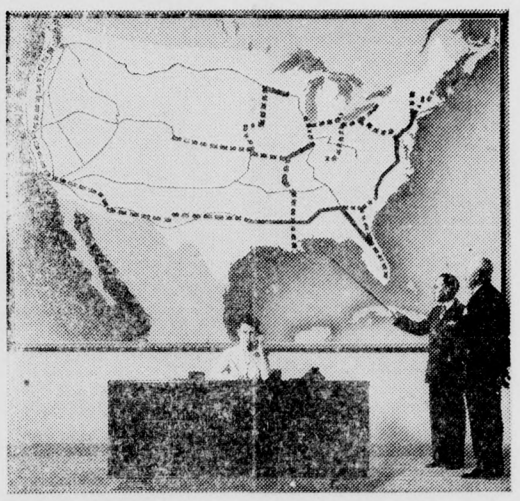
This pair of wires carries 480 long distance calls simultaneously



Small copper wires in copper tubes about the size of a pencil... yet nearly five hundred people can talk over them at the same time. They are units of the famous coaxial cable, developed by the Bell Telephone Laboratories to help speed your calls up and down the Pacific Coast and across the country.



Work has begun already on our part of the first transcontinental coaxial cable along the route shown (dotted line). It will be an eight-tube cable used for long distance calls and television transmission. Actually, this project is only part of our plans to extend and speed long distance service.

Many other improvements are on the way. For it is our purpose in our $400,000,000 five-year expansion program to provide an ever-widening, ever-improving telephone service . . . so that the telephone steadily becomes more valuable and useful to every user.

Every day we seek to make telephone service even better than it has ever been before
